FROM DACULA TO TRANSYLVANIA

1,000 / 40 for 40: Day ELEVEN

At our school each classroom is named after a European city, and we're in the Berlin room.

Prayer Requests

Here are our quick, specific prayer requests for August 8, 2017:

- We both really enjoyed our day of personal language study because we each got a little bit of alone time to read, listen to music/podcast, and I called my mom! But we also recognize that on these days we have a lot to do and don't see each other much. Please pray for the Lord to guard our marriage and for us to make time to be together.
- Our pallet of personal belongings should get here tomorrow! Please pray that our things arrive.

Who We Met

Today was our second day of language school and our first day of taking classes separately, which we will do on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. In order to get to our school we have to walk about fifteen minutes and take three different buses. It is a long, tiring process, but we enjoy the time it gives us together on Mondays and Wednesdays, as well as the rare moments of semi-solitude it gives us on the other days.

As I headed to our first morning class today, I was pleasantly surprised to see Andrea at our last bus stop. Andrea is the "asistent" at the school and was our first point of contact. I didn't think we'd get to spend much time with her, but our similar bus schedule makes it likely that we'll get thirty or so minutes to chat each week.

Please pray for Andrea. Pray that God would keep putting us on the same bus and that he would help us to be willing to put some of our small amount of busy, noisy solitude down to engage with Andrea. Pray that God would be drawing Andrea closer to himself and that we might be a part of that process.
